Alcohol & Drug Abuse Prevention Program

ADAPT | Chief, Air Force Alcohol & Drug Abuse Prevention & Treatment Program

Mission

The Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention Program (ADAPT) mission is to promote readiness, health, and wellness through the prevention and treatment of substance misuse and abuse; to minimize the negative consequences of substance misuse and abuse, to the individual, family, and organization; to provide comprehensive education and treatment to individuals who experience problems attributed to substance misuse or abuse; and to restore function and return members to unrestricted duty status, or to assist them in their transition to civilian life, as appropriate.

Provider Role Within Agency

Administrative Staff: The ADAPT Program Manager (PM) manages all substance abuse treatment, services, prevention, and staff members. Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselors (CADC) conduct evaluations, education, and individual and group therapy. ADAPT staff coordinates with other base agencies and off-base resources to supplement services.

Populations Eligible for Services

- Active Duty Military
- Reserve Airmen and Air National Guard (Title 10)
- Dependents and retirees (Typically space available or referred to network)
- Civilian employees (IAW AFMAN 44-198)

Presenting Concerns for Which We Offer Support

- Alcohol/Drug misuse

Confidentiality Considerations

- Limits of confidentiality (dependent upon referral source)
- Privacy Act
- Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) provisions

Differences in Available Services Between Installations

Varies depending on CONUS vs OCONUS, nature of mission, size of Military Treatment Facility (MTF), residency training facility status, and strength of downtown referral network

Air Force Employee Assistance Program

AF EAP

Overview

The Air Force Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a non-clinical, confidential resource for civilians and their families to connect with short-term mental health support, work-life referrals, resources, and information, as well as help with the daily challenges that may impact a civilian member and/or their family members. Services and referrals are provided at no cost to the civilian or family member.

Provider Roles Within Agency

All services begin with a call to our 1-866-580-9078 toll-free number. Depending on the evaluation, clients can receive services face-to-face with a local affiliate provider, on the phone, or via telehealth (a virtual counseling platform). Additional follow-up support is provided via email, and clients have access to a comprehensive website.

NOTE: High civilian-populated locations (e.g., AFMC, JBSA) have assigned on-installation resources that are available to the installation civilian population and their families.

Populations Eligible for Services

- DAF Civilian Employees
- NAF Civilian Employees
- Additional audiences: Supervisors of Civilians (military or civilian); Direct Hire Foreign Nationals in USAFE; Army civilians at Air-Force led bases (eg., Fort Sam Houston); Defense Logistic Agency (DLA) at Air Force medical facilities; DAF and NAF household/family members; Guard and Reserve civilian members and their families
- AF EAP also provides direct support to both military and civilian supervisors of civilians with respect to what will be available through the resource, how to approach the civilian, and what potential concerns to look for while supporting the civilian

Presenting Concerns for Which We Offer Support

- Alcohol/Drugs
- Anxiety/Depression/Stress
- Education/Professional Development
- Finances
- Grief/Loss/Sadness
- Hostile Work Environment
- Interpersonal Conflicts
- Legal (i.e., wills, power of attorney)
- Marriage & Family/Relationships
- New Parent Assistance
- Nutrition/Fitness/Tobacco
- PCS/Separation
- Sexual Harassment
- Sleep
- Special Needs/EFMP
- Workplace Discrimination

NOTE: EAP is a non-clinical support resource that can be used in all the situations above as initial prevention support, as a post-event response support, or as a stopgap for individuals who need in-the-moment help. It would not be the primary for any clinical response (Sexual Assault, Suicidal ideation, Domestic Violence). Individuals who call or connect with AF EAP for these needs would be triaged to ensure current safety and transferred to appropriate resources. Because the calls are confidential, unless concern is for immediate harm to self or others, all transfers will be voluntary.

Air Force Employee Assistance Program

AF EAP

Confidentiality Considerations

- Mandatory Reporter: Clear and present concern for immediate harm to self or others
- 100% Confidential: Can maintain confidentiality but does not take restricted reports

NOTE: AF EAP is not required for disclosure on the Questionnaire for National Security Positions, question 21, which requires disclosure of mental health treatment because AF EAP operates only on a non-clinical basis.

Equal Opportunity

SAF/MRQ

Purpose

The Department of the Air Force (DAF) Equal Opportunity (EO) Program provides prompt, fair, and impartial services to all Airmen and Guardians (military and civilian), military family members, and retirees, reinforcing DAF's commitment to responding to unlawful discrimination and harassment which threaten Airmen and Guardian's well-being, unit morale, and ultimately degrades mission readiness and success. This includes ensuring the Total Force is equipped with knowledge about and has access to available resources such as trained EO practitioners and the DAF Unlawful Discrimination, Harassment, and Sexual Harassment Hotline.

The DAF EO Program provides civilian equal employment opportunity (EEO) and military equal opportunity (MEO) complaint processing, outreach, training, human relations education, and assistance through Negotiation and Dispute Resolution, and other related services and initiatives.

Provider Role Within Agency

- EO Directors (Program Oversight, Complaint Processing, Outreach, Training, Etc.)
- EO Practitioners (Includes Complaint Processing, Outreach, and Training)

Populations Eligible for Services

- Active Duty Military
- Active Duty Dependents (18 years or older)
- Military Retirees
- DAF Civilian Employees (APR/NAF)
 - DAF Civilian Applicants for Employment
 - DAF Former Civilian Employees
- Reserve Airmen (Title 10 Status)
- Guard Airmen (Title 10 Status)
- U.S. Government Contractors (limited circumstances)

Presenting Concerns for Which We Offer Support

- Workplace Discrimination - based on protected class
 - Military - Race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity, or sexual orientation)
 - Civilian - Race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity, and sexual orientation), age (over 40), disability, genetic information, or retaliation
- Unlawful Harassment (Sexual Harassment) - hostile work environment based on protected class
- Harassment - hostile work environment NOT based on protected class
 - Military - bullying, hazing, offensive jokes, ridicule or mockery, insults or put-downs, intimidating acts, veiled threats of violence, threatening or provoking remarks
 - Civilian - DAF EO does not have oversight on this; please contact civilian personnel

Confidentiality Considerations

- Mandatory Reporter: Must report all allegations of suspected criminal activity to appropriate authorities as outlined in existing policies. The DAF EO office preemptively defines sexual assault during an MEO complaint intake to help preserve a member's ability to file a restricted (confidential) report with the SAPR program

Differences in Available Services Between Installations

DAF EO operates across CONUS and OCONUS locations. Hours vary depending on location but generally follow installation guidance on what constitutes the duty day.

Exceptional Family Member Program

EFMP | AF/A1S

Overview

The Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP) provides comprehensive support to military families with special medical or educational needs through: Identification & Enrollment, Assignment Coordination and Family Support Services. Airmen and Guardians on active duty enroll in the mandatory program when they have a family member with a physical, emotional, developmental, or intellectual disorder requiring specialized services so their needs can be considered in the military personnel assignment process. EFMP Family Support Coordinators provide outreach to newly identified EFMP families, family assessments for information and referral services, as well as a connection to the new duty location EFMP Family Support.

EFMP | AF/A1S

Differences in Available Services Between Installations

DAF EFMP operates across CONUS and OCONUS locations with installation-level medical, assignment and Family Support stakeholders. FMTS has traditionally been a frustrating process for members, families, and leadership. In order to improve support, centralize and standardize processes with Sister Services and installation-level partners, the EFMP Central Cell was established at AFPC and available 24 hours/day through the Total Force Service Center to assist members. The DAF has 105 full time EFMP-FS Coordinators at 82 installations; larger population installations have more than 1 coordinator assigned. DAF EFMP Medical Offices are currently staffed with 83 primary duty Special Needs Coordinators, 66 alternate-duty Special Needs Coordinators, 78 primary duty Special Needs Technicians, and 42 alternate-duty Special Needs Technicians. Hours vary depending on location but generally follow installation guidance on what constitutes the duty day.

Military and Family Life Counseling Program

MFLC | AF/A1S

Overview

Military and Family Life Counseling provides service members, their families, and survivors with non-medical counseling worldwide through licensed and credentialed counselors obtained through a Department of Defense contract. The non-medical counseling approach is psychoeducational, which helps participants learn to anticipate and resolve challenges associated with the military life. Support is aimed at preventing the development or exacerbation of mental health conditions that may detract from military and family readiness. Military and Family Life Counselors (MFLC) are trained to work with the military community to deliver valuable face-to-face counseling services, briefings, and presentations to the military community both on and off the installation.

MFLCs may be organized as rotational, rotational-embedded (within a unit), short-term surge, or on-demand support for adult, child and youth, or school-based populations. MFLCs may be assigned to various locations including, but not limited to, installation Military and Family Readiness Centers, resiliency centers, child development centers, teen centers, DoDEA schools, local education agencies and installation welcome centers, as well as, directly embedded in some units. Counseling is private and confidential with the exception of mandatory state, federal and military duty-to-warn reporting requirements, as each MFLC is licensed and credentialed in the state in which services are provided. Non-medical counseling services may occur both on and off military installations.

Provider Role Within Agency

MFLC non-medical counseling services

Populations Eligible for Services

- Active Duty Military and their immediate family members
- National Guard and Reserve (regardless of activation status) and immediate family members
- Department of Defense expeditionary civilians (90 days prior to deployment through 180 days post-deployment) and immediate family members during the eligibility period
- Veterans and their immediate families are eligible up to 180 days past separation from the military

Office of Special Investigations

OSI | SAF/IG

Purpose

The Office of Special Investigations (OSI) is the federal law enforcement and counterintelligence agency for the United States Air Force and Space Force. OSI provides professional investigative service to commanders of all DAF. OSI's primary responsibilities are criminal investigations and counterintelligence services. The vast majority of OSI's investigative activities pertain to felony crimes including murder, robbery, rape, assault, major burglaries, drug use and trafficking, sex offenses, arson, compromise of DAF test materials, black market activities, and other criminal activities.

Provider Role Within Agency

OSI is a federal law enforcement investigative agency and does not have a provider role.

Populations Eligible for Services

- Active Duty Military
- Active Duty Dependents (18 years or older)
- Active Duty Dependents (Younger than 18 years)
- DAF Civilian Employees
- NAF Civilian Employees
- Reserve Airmen
- Guard Airmen
- U.S. Government Contractors

Presenting Concerns for Which We Offer Support

- OSI provides investigative support to DAF Commanders

Confidentiality Considerations

- Mandatory Reporter: Must report the case to appropriate authorities as outlined in existing policies

Differences in Available Services Between Installations

OSI operates across installations and its mission depends on installation type and location. The OSI basic unit is the OSI Detachment located on all USAF installations, CONUS and OCONUS where they perform criminal, fraud and counterintelligence (CI) investigations and operations. Other locations that are not traditional include OSI locations at U.S. Embassies, Seat of Government Detachments, National Security Detachments, Joint Terrorism Task Force and Force Protection Detachments. These locations have a focused mission with regard to Counterintelligence Investigation, Operations and Liaison activities. Deployed locations in Europe and the Middle East are similar and carry a heavy CI-Focused Mission with the occasional criminal investigative support. Other OSI Units include Special Projects, responsible for all USAF Special Access Programs (SAPs) which performs program security, inspections, investigative and counterintelligence functions for all SAPs, and Procurement Fraud which specializes in large scale, "white collar" crimes affecting Air Force and DoD-wide contracts, programs, or weapons systems. These units may not be located on a Department of Air Force Installation.

Primary Care Behavioral Health

PCBH | DHA

Overview

Primary Care Behavioral Health (PCBH) provides consultation and brief intervention, not traditional psychotherapy. We also assist patients with the referral process if additional mental health is needed. We encourage and schedule follow-up appointments with your primary care manager for further assessment and intervention if needed. We assist patients with developing and sustaining healthier lifestyle choices. We manage and track patients who have been diagnosed with anxiety, depression, post-traumatic stress disorder or other mental health illnesses for which a primary care manager has prescribed antidepressant medication or anxiolytic medication. During assessments, we educate about medication, treatment expectations, potential side effects and possible remedies.

TAP | AFRC/A1ZO

Overview

Reserve and Guard-specific Transition Assistance Program (TAP) services provide information, education, and referral to Reserve and Guard Airmen who are completing their first 180-day order, have previously completed 180-day orders without completing TAP requirements, and/or are referred to/in need of TAP assistance even if they are remaining in a Reserve or Guard status.

Provider Role Within Agency

Reserve and Guard TAP professionals operate in the unit Airman and Family Readiness (A&FR) Offices. These professionals provide support and guidance helping Reserve and Guard Airmen, in any status, become fully aware of and utilize veteran's entitlements as well opportunities for education, job search, entrepreneurship, mental health, and other benefits and support resources available.

TAP professionals in a Reserve/Guard A&FR Office or an active duty A&FR Center work with Reservists and Guardsmen to coordinate assistance from a variety of helping agencies and professionals including the VA, Directors of Psychological Health, the local America's Job Bank, base helping agencies, local community helping agencies, and national organizations. Connect to Care practices depend upon the severity of the situation varying from escorting personnel to needed services to sharing of contact, location, and information necessary for successful appointment with the referred-to agency.
